EASY GOING WATERCOLOR PAINTING A masterclass in Madrid with Benjamin Björklund

Benjamin Björklund was born in Trollhättan, near the west coast of Sweden. Benjamin Björklund has a varied career as a prison night guard, psychiatric nurse and veterinary technician. As a painter, he takes inspirations from classic and contemporary painting influences for his oil and watercolor creations.

Benjamin Björklund lives in Uppsala, Sweden, where he has spent most of his life. Ben enjoys a simple life based on a small 19th century rustic farm shared with his great Dane Ruben and a collection of pets including rabbits, guinea pigs, mice and rats.

Looking for inspiration in everyday life, Björklund interprets through his paintings the emotions and the characters and beings that surround him. He keeps simple compositions and focal points to ensure emotional closeness to his painting subjects. His dogs Solomon and Ruben, wild and domestic animals and family members have been frequent subjects, although he also works on old photos and memories as references.

The figurative and portraiture work of Björklund sometimes depicts scenes that border on the surreal, picking up the influence of the beings that surround him physically and emotionally. These representations are usually emphasized through the use of abstract light and intense color strokes. Benjamin Björklund refers to these as "happy mistakes" that are born from spontaneous actions that help to focus the attention adding an emotional impact on the viewer.

Björklund work can be found in public and private collections around the world such as London, NY, LA, San Francisco, Melbourne and throughout Sweden and Europe.
